ssman Linton May Co Matters at St. Louis.

A remarkable Presidential campaign is Congressman Linton of Michigan, the A. P. A. leader in the House, is seriously a candidate for the Presidency. As the representative of a secret Order his canvass is being made in secrecy, but it is being actively pressed through the medium of the various Lodges of the A. P. A.

The intention appears to be that he shall receive the votes of delegates at the Re publican National Conventionnot with the idea perhaps that he can get the Republi can nomination, but with the view of holding all delegates who may be A. P. A. men away from any other candidate who may be offensive to the Order, and to prepare the way to an independent nomins tion if the choice of the Convention is re pugnant to them.

Making an independent nomination they expect Linton to be their choice.
They say, however, that they are going to have enough of their Order in the Republican Convention to defeat any man who is repugnant to them. They say that some of the Delegates will even disregard instruction if necessary.

Linton has made himself rather con spicuous since he first entered Congress though his devotion to the cause of the A. P. A. His famous "little red school-house" speech first brought him into notice among his colleagues. It was not realized then how far the movement which he represented might go. His speech struck the popular fancy and members from all quarters sent it out to their constituents to read. One Senator distributed a million copies, and about two million more were circulated by the Republican members of the House. The character of the fight this session against sectarian schools shows how ac tive the movement has been during the past two year.

It is viewed with some apprehension by many of the leaders in politics as likely to temporarily disturb the pelitical situation.

forty minutes of debate, and some criti-cism was offered because of that fact; but The Record shows that two hours and a limit was refused by the enemies of the bill, and it was only when their objection was reiterated that I refused any exten-sion of debate beyond the limit given by the rules. I had carefully examined the bill, and believed that it would not be im-proved by debate or attempted amend-

The Chairman of the Committee. Hon W. B. Hooker, has shown himself a most capable member of the House in his in telligent and successful management of the bill. The Ohio Valley Improvement Association and yourself conspicuously may well be congratulated upon the out-come of your efforts thus far to secure adequate appropriations for the great Val ley which you represent. No river of the world furnishes to commerce such a volume of traffic as does the Ohio river and its tributaries, and hence it is the high duty of statesmanship to see to it that the natural advantages which God has given to the Ohio Valley shall be utilized to the itmost extent possible.

It is not in the amount of morey immediately appropriated that they have achieved victory, but it is in the fact that after all these years of struggle the sys-
